

Luca Crivelli, PhD, is an economist specialized in public health policy, health insurance and social economy. He is head of department and professor at the University of Applied Sciences and Arts of Southern Switzerland, titular professor at the Università della Svizzera italiana and Deputy Director of the Swiss School of Public Health+ (SSPH+). Finally, he is member of the Board of Ente Ospedaliero Cantonale (the public hospitals of Ticino).