

Curriculum Vitae

Georgia Salanti is associate professor of Biostatistics and Epidemiology at the University of Bern. Her research focuses on methods for evidence synthesis and systematic reviews. Several of her methodological developments have been applied to answer clinical questions in mental health.